EUROPEAN CONFERENCE OF PROMOTERS OF NEW MUSIC

The European Festivals Association is a membership organisation representing hundreds of art festivals across Europe and beyond.

Since April 2004 EFA is based in Gent/Belgium.

The new strands and working lines include four core fields of activities:

Service and Information

Internally, EFA stimulates, facilitates and coordinates contacts and enhances co-operation and co-productions among its members by means of the regular EFA Newsletter ‘efacts’, an EFA INFO BOX, an EFAextranet and by means of personal contacts and thematic group meetings throughout the year. Hereby, the EFAextranet includes an extensive amount of data and know-how. On a public level, EFA provides information by means of the EFA website, an EFA brochure, a joint advertisement and communication strategy and international press actions.

Research and Knowledge

EFA stimulates researches on festivals as a partner and consortium member of the European Festival Research Project (EFRP), a group of researchers from various disciplines, focused on the dynamics of artistic festivals today and the explosion of festivals. The EFRP project seeks to create a critical mass of research papers, studies and debates in order to produce, by the end of 2007, some tentative conclusions, trends, and recommendations to the festival operators, public authorities as subsidy givers and to potential sponsors. On a longer term, EFA aims at setting up a “Festival centre of knowledge”.

Training and Education

EFA creates training and networking opportunities for young festival managers through the “European Atelier for Young Festival Managers”. The European Atelier is an exclusive, one-week intensive workshop designed especially for carefully selected beginning festival practitioners. It focuses on the artistic dimension and the role festivals have with regard to the arts and the artists. It combines high-level discussion and reflection with hands-on training, and provides a unique platform for invaluable networking opportunities. Workshops and lectures are held by leading and extremely experienced festival managers from all over the world. This ‘European Atelier for Young Festival Managers’ will be organised biannually in a city of “European significance”.

Cultural policies

EFA continues, as advocate of the festival branch, to contribute to the cultural debate at European level. This involvement results in a close dialogue with the European Institutions on the one hand and in the participation in different initiatives, such as the Berliner Konferenz focusing on European cultural affairs on the other. A publication on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the birth of the founder and first president of the EFA, Denis de Rougemont, will be dedicated to questions relating to cultural and political issues of the European integration process as well as to the role that festivals take on in this context.

The voice of hundreds of festivals across Europe and beyond

The European Festivals Association (EFA) is the umbrella organisation of festivals in Europe. In its more than fifty years of existence, the Association has grown into a dynamic network representing more than a hundred music, dance, theatre and multidisciplinary festivals, national festivals associations and cultural organisations from 37 different (mainly European) countries altogether. Since 2004, the EFA offices are based in Belgium, in the heart of Europe. Stretching from the north to the south and the east to the west of Europe, festivals open their doors to millions of people every year. The European Festivals Association embraces them all in one pan-European umbrella-organisation that unifies audiences and artists, and enables visitors to come and experience the enjoyment of cultural festival events. All EFA members have in common significant objectives, incorporating artistic, cultural, social and political facets. They share the love for ART, they are INTERNATIONALLY oriented and they thrive on INNOVATION. Each festival is set in its own very special context but all strive at generating a stimulating and collective, individual atmosphere among AUDIENCES and artists. Furthermore, the ambition is to create an uplifting experience for a society, whereby each festival is a herald of innovation in art, and therefore an extremely positive exposure of the artists' work in a tolerant and open society.

Visit our festivals and enjoy thrilling cultural events!
